

FIRE IN THE HOLE

MASON DARING/JON SAYLES

You can tell em in the country, tell em in the town

You can tell em in the country tell em in the town

Miners down in Mingo laid their shovels down

Miners down in Mingo laid their shovels down

We won't pull another pillar load another ton pillar load another ton

or lift another finger till the union we have won

stand up boys, let the bosses know, turn your buckets over leave your lanterns

low, there's fire in our hearts and fire in our soul, but there ain't gonna be no fire in the hole.

well daddy died a miner, grandpa he did too,

well daddy died a miner, grandpa he did too,

I'll bet this coal will kill me fore my working days are through

I'll bet this coal will kill me fore working days are through

I'm in a hole that's dark and dirty, an early grave to find, dirty, an early grave to find,

but I plan to make a union for the ones I leave behind.

but I plan to make a union for the ones I leave behind.

Sittin high and mighty, they think they've got control,

they think they've got the power cause they bought up all the coal

they think they've got the power cause they bought up all the coal

They want us to stand divided, they want us for the fall, divided, they want us for the fall, but we plan to stick together, to make victory for all.

but we plan to stick together, to make victory for all.
