RESPONSIBILITIES OF HOLDING A CAMPING EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE

Certificates can only be used by the named organisation and cannot be transferred to other organisations.

Camping exemption certificates do not permit caravans to be used in camping activities.

Touring caravans (Paragraph 4 & 6) and tents attending the same event must be covered by two separate exemption certificates, one for camping and one for touring caravans. One type of certificate does not permit the other.

Natural England must be satisfied that an organisation is:

- Taking reasonable steps to ensure that its campsites are properly managed and kept in a good sanitary condition,
- Ensuring that the tents occupied by its members are used in such a way that they do not give rise to any nuisance

Organisations must be sensitive to the concerns of local residents who may be affected by frequent or large-scale caravanning activities and avoid overuse of sites.

Organisations must be responsive to all valid complaints about the use of a site and to make every effort to reach agreement with those concerned.

Organisations should not use sites where planning permission has been refused or where enforcement action has been taken.

Any changes to the details recorded on the exemption certificate, the Code of Conduct, or Constitution must be reported in writing to Natural England.

Permission to use land within the following designated sites must be sought prior to authorising land for exempted use.
